

Being a parent is hard. There isn't a manual, but there is help.

For more information, scan:

Contact:

FAMILY SUCCESS NETWORK

Keeping Families Happy, Healthy, and Strong

FAMILY SUCCESS NETWORK

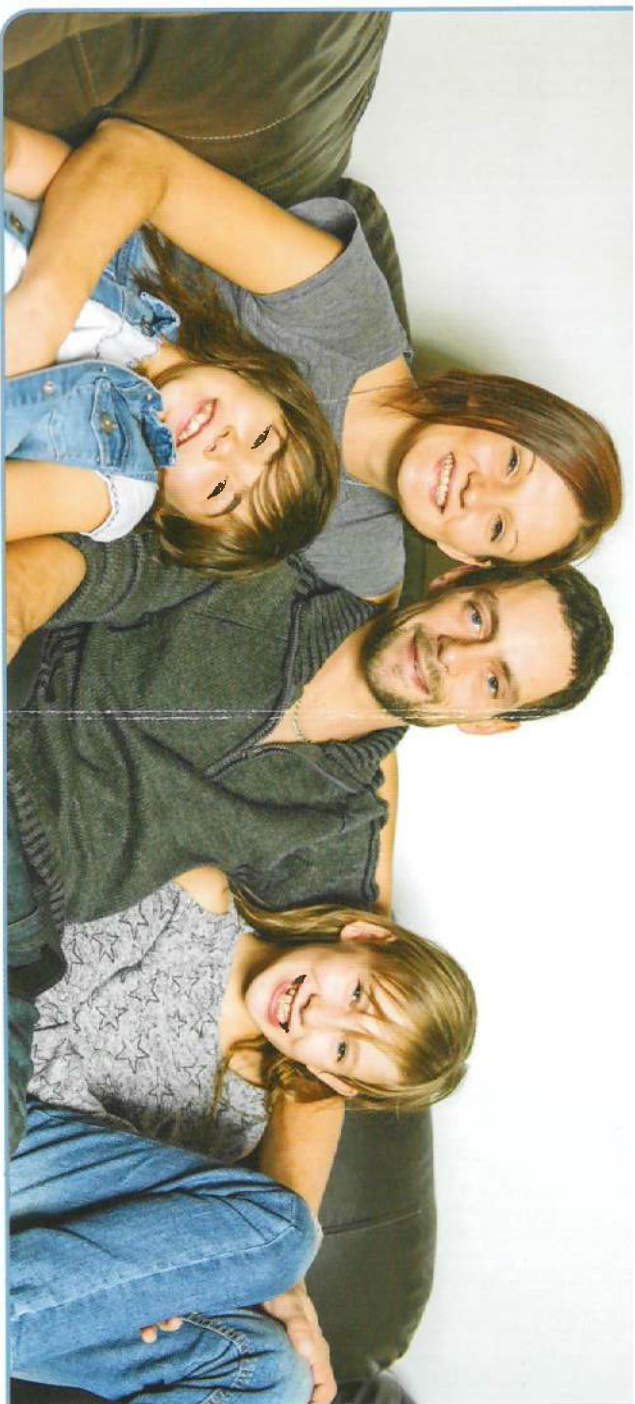

What We Do

Free family support services including connection to community resources, family coaching, parenting tips, budgeting and money management, and financial assistance, when needed. The Family Success Network recognizes that parenting is hard. There is no manual, but there is help.

Services Catered to Your Family

- Budgeting and Money Management
Work with your coach to understand credit, budgeting, and set goals
- Financial Assistance
Access financial support to help meet the needs of your family
- Parenting Support
We work with all families to address their personalized needs, whether through simple parenting tips, hands-on parenting assistance, or someone to talk to about parenting challenges and stresses
- Connect with Community Supports
Get help locating the services you need

What You Get With a Personal Family Coach

Sometimes parents just want someone to listen. Every family in the Family Success Network can access a personal family coach, whose first priority is to listen to the family.

Parents work with a family coach to decide when, where, and how often they want to meet and what they want to do during their meetings. Family coaches will empower families to achieve their goals, support them in their needs, and help build strengths. Families can choose to stop services at any time.

Through parenting support, money management, financial assistance, and connecting families with community supports, family coaches are a resource for any family.

Family Coaching Keys to Success

To help families feel connected, build trust, and succeed, every family coach will:

- Listen
- Support
- Advocate
- Motivate

